Champ Clark Died At Washington Today

Aged Missouri Statesman Succumbs to Attack of Pleurisy; Mind Engrossed With Memories of Long Legislative Career to Last Minute.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Champ Clark died today at 2:10 p. m. in his 71st year and within two days of his retirement from the house of representatives after a service of 26 years.

Death was due to an attack of pleurisy and a complication of diseases incident to his advanced age. Up to ten days ago, however, when he developed a severe cold, Clark had shared actively in proceedings of the house as democrat leader.

Immediately after the death of Clark was announced, the house recessed for thirty minutes. Representative Rucker, democrat of Missouri, who made the announcement, said it was Mr. Clark's wish as expressed through his son, that there be no interruption of congress in its closing day.

To his last conscious moments the former speakers mind was engrossed with memories of his long legislative career. Just before he lapsed into final unconsciousness early today those at his bedside heard him whisper: "The question is on the adoption of the conference report."

At Baltimore Convention.
In the democratic national convention at Baltimore in 1912, Champ Clark led on twenty-seven ballots for the nomination as candidate for president and had a clear majority of nine ballots, prior to the final naming of Woodrow Wilson. The two-thirds rule of the convention alone prevented Mr. Clark's nomination. The honor which his party thus paid him was the most notable of his public life. In American political history Martin Van Buren was the only other man who failed of the democratic nomination for the presidency after having received a majority of the votes in the national convention, but he enjoyed the unique distinction of being elected subsequently.

William J. Bryan's sensational attack on Mr. Clark at Baltimore, charging him with being affiliated with leaders representing "the interests," held the convention in deadlock for more than a week when it ended in the nomination of Wilson. Bryan's speech, declaring that Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont and Charles F. Murphy were supporting Clark, was a bolt from the blue which made the Clark ranks waver. Clark supporters declared afterward that none of the three leaders mentioned were for Clark as first choice, but that the unit rule carried the New York delegation to the Clark forces.

The breach between Bryan and Clark never healed, although they met at a luncheon arranged by mutual friends a few months later and exchanged perfunctory speeches. Coolness between Clark and Wilson wore off after the president entered the White House and on legislative policies they worked in harmony except in one notable instance, the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption, which Speaker Clark opposed unsuccessfully.

Disappointed by Failure.
The failure of his candidacy at Baltimore never ceased to be the disappointment of Mr. Clark's life. He refused nomination as vice-president and told the house on the eve of his defeat that he preferred to remain as speaker.

His election to the speakership of the house came in the 62nd congress, prior to the Baltimore convention, and it was by a united democracy in recognition of the contest Mr. Clark had made against the rule of Speaker Joseph Cannon. Mr. Clark had served in every congress since and including the 53rd in 1893 except the 54th when he was beaten.

Although Champ Clark was known as a Missourian he was born in Anderson, Ky., on March 7, 1850. He was christened James Beauchamp Clark, but early in life he reduced this to Champ Clark. His first work was as a farm hand, clerk in a general store, and on a country newspaper.

He was educated at Kentucky University and Bethany College, and the Cincinnati Law School. For a short time he was president of Marshall College, and, at 22, held the record of being the youngest college president in the United States. In 1875 he moved to Missouri where he took up the study and practice of law, and became prosecuting attorney in Pike county. His next step was into the Missouri legislature where he framed the Missouri Primary Law, an anti-trust statute, and the Australian ballot law. He was permanent chairman of the democratic national convention at St. Louis in 1904 and headed the committee that notified Alton B. Parker of his presidential nomination.

Long in Public Life.

He was first sent to the national forum in 1893. Although then regarded as "green," his strength in the house developed rapidly. When John Sharp Williams left the house for the senate, Representative Clark was made minority leader by virtue of his seniority on the Ways and Means Committee which drafted the Payne-Aldrich tariff act. His service on that committee in trying to keep duties down won him the regard of the democrats and his speech of five hours against the bill was one of the notable addresses of that congress.

Was Sincere to All.

Mr. Clark's sincerity, friendship for opponents and adherents alike, his fairness as a presiding officer and his knowledge of history, his love of clean anecdotes and humorous stories, and his marvelously retentive memory ranked with his attributes of leadership. He welded the minority into a virtual democratic unit when he was minority leader, and after the ousting of Cannon, which robbed the speakership of many of its powers, he divided with majority leader Underwood the control of the democrats in the house and they formed a great working team.

Physically he was a giant of a man, standing over six feet two inches in height and weighing a trifle more than 200 pounds. Speaker Clark and Mrs. Champ Clark, a familiar figure in the speaker's bench in the gallery entertained not only at an annual New Year's house and at other functions but gave informal weekly luncheons at the capital to which members and others were invited. Genevieve Clark, whose engagement to James M. Thompson, a New Orleans newspaper editor, was announced in the waning days of the 63rd congress, and Bennett Clark, parliamentarian of the house at the speaker's appointment, whom the speaker hoped to have succeed to his seat in congress comprised the rest of the immediate family.

THE LEGISLATURE

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 2.—A second so called "blue law" bill was introduced in the lower house of the legislature at the morning session today. The measure, by Charles Platt, declared against work on Sunday, except certain occupations designated as necessary and seeks to curtail activities of motion picture shows on Sunday by limiting their hours from 2 to 6 o'clock. A resolution memorializing congress in regard to its rights relative to railroad rates was also introduced. R. H. Matthews is author of the bill. It memorializes congress to nullify certain orders of the interstate commerce commission affecting intra state rates and to amend present laws regulating carriers so as to render such orders impossible in the future.

There is quite a lot of interest being manifested in the club and those in charge are pleased with the present outlook.

HOUSTON ORDERED TO SUBMIT REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Secretary Houston is "directed" in a resolution adopted today by the judiciary committee, to produce complete treasury files of correspondence relating to foreign loans. Members of the committee said the resolution was practically a "quantum subpoena" in form. The resolution was introduced by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, author of the bill to prohibit further loans to foreign governments and was adopted in executive session. Committee members said it made it "mandatory" for the secretary to appear before the committee tomorrow with the full correspondence.

The Weather

Tonight and Thursday unsettled, probably local rains and colder.

The allied representatives met at St. James palace at noon to receive the report of the military and judicial experts who had spent the morning drawing up plans for action.

Germany Merely Marking Time
The Germans today were merely making time. The results of yesterday's conference had been communicated to Berlin, but up to this afternoon they had received no new instructions.

This morning's newspapers were unanimous in declaring the German offer of the equivalent of seven billion, five hundred million dollars in reparation was wholly inadequate. "Imprudent," "lurid," "fantastic," and "grotesque" were some of the adjectives the principle newspapers used in commenting on the German terms.

Even the Pacific Daily News confessed it was at a loss to understand the German mentality.

"Shadowy, ludicrous and ill informed as Dr. Simon's speech may have been," said the Morning Post, "it served to unite the allies. It was tragic because even now Germany does not realize her infamy."

The Daily Telegraph declared nobody was prepared for such a fantastic offer and added: "Great Britain must support France whether naval actions or economic pressure should be decided upon."

First Steps Outlined.
LONDON, Mar. 2.—German customs received in the occupied area would be taken over as the first step in forcing the payment of German obligations should that prove necessary, under plans being drawn up by a committee of the supreme council today.

No indication that the allies intend to occupy additional German territory at present appears in the instructions given by the allied leaders to this committee, which is framing a reply to the German reparations proposal made Tuesday.

France Has Been Patient.
PARIS, Mar. 2.—Newspapers in this city are united in declaring that Germany's proposals submitted to the supreme allied council in London yesterday were unacceptable.

Germany's lukewarm offer appears to sum up the view of the majority of journals in this city and the remark of Premier Lloyd George, "we had better adjourn quickly, or we will find we owe them money," finds immense favor.

Premier Briand's newspaper the Enclair says: "France hitherto has shown the utmost patience and if Germany compels her to do so she will use her strength remorselessly in full agreement with the allies."

FESTIVAL SCENE AT GOLDEN WEDDING

Beloved Couple, Parents of Local Merchant Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary.

The Lometa Reporter, Sunday, afternoon, February 20, Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Wilson, well known and beloved citizens of Lometa these many years past, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Biggs. A large concourse of friends were present to join in the festivities and to bid them happy returns of the day.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in white and gold, with wedding bells conspicuously displayed. As nearly as possible, the golden wedding service was executed as it was fifty years ago, the bride and groom taking their positions beneath a tastefully arranged arch. Rev. George Smith, pastor of the Methodist church, read an appropriate and "touching" ceremony that bound the devoted couple for the second half-century of connubial life. This included the bestowing of a new wedding ring upon the finger of the bride, and was in every way appropriate and enjoyable to all present. The bride cut a wedding cake of fifty candles and distributed it among the guests.

Preceding the wedding, Mrs. George Smith sang "Memories." Other features of the program were:

Piano solo, Lola Bowden.

Reading "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," Mary Day Biggs.

Quartet, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," by Mesdames Smith, Swain, Crain and R. A. Thompson.

After the program, the groom of fifty years gave an interesting talk on his experiences on the frontiers of Texas where he has preached the gospel under almost every conceivable hardship, the past forty-five years. These reminiscences were interesting in the extreme, and gave conclusive evidence of what it has meant to give one's life to work on the "outside row" of Texas frontiers during all this time.

M. C. Wilson was born in Fannola county, Texas, when white settlements extended but a little ways west of the boundaries of this county, which is on the extreme eastern edge of the state. He was married to Miss Mary Francis Stephens in Kaufman county February 20, 1871 the officiating clergyman being a Free Will Baptist minister then doing evangelical work in that section of the state. The couple moved to LaPanola county in 1874, where they have continually resided since. Brother Wilson has been well known minister of the Protestant Methodist church since 1878 and has preached in every settlement in this and adjoining counties, his good wife sharing with him all the vicissitudes of a pioneer preacher's existence.

To the couple were born nine children, six of whom are living. They are W. A. Wilson, Oklahoma City; Mrs. W. D. Biggs, Lometa; Mrs. J. C. Tynes, Cooper, Texas; Jack Wilson, Fort Worth; Mrs. W. W. Douglas, Silverton, Texas; and M. C. Wilson, Jr., Ada, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Biggs, the hostess, was assisted by Mesdames Newell and Christians, who kept the wedding register.

The bride and groom of fifty years enter upon the second half century of married life with the promise of many years to come. Strengthened by the consciousness of the love and confidence of family and friends, they go forth happy and contented. May their journey be long and pleasant, and our Father lead them tenderly when the declining days shall come.

The display of useful wedding gifts sent in by friends showed the very high esteem in which this couple are held.

SOUTHWEST SUBJECT TO DISASTER AFTER MARCH

ST. LOUIS.—Warning that disasters strike the southwest more frequently between March and October, is contained in a communication sent the 736 chapters of the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross by Edward B. Orr, divisional director of civilian relief.

Mr. Orr asserted statistics show one community a month has been destroyed in the division since 1919, and that the disasters were especially severe from March until October.

The communication admonished the chapters to be prepared to furnish food, shelter, clothing and medical treatment in cases of emergency. More than 12,000 persons are registered as disaster relief volunteers in the division, which comprises the states of Arkansas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

RE-ORGANIZE CITY CHARITIES AT TULSA

(By the Associated Press)

TULSA, Mar. 1.—Citizens of Tulsa took the initial step last week to re-organize and co-ordinate the various charities of the city. A plan for the formation of a central charities committee was submitted to a group of 32 prominent men and women of the city, appointed by Mayor T. D. Evans, and was endorsed by them. A lengthy report containing a complete survey of the charity field was submitted by Miss Gertrude Vaile, a national charity worker. This report is to be submitted to the directors of the various charities for expressions from them in regard to the recommendations made for the co-ordination of the various organizations.

The chief recommendation made to the committee was the formation of a separate organization to take care of nursing and the baby clinics. This work is now handled by both the Tulsa County Humane society and the Child Welfare board.

P. E. Magee, chairman of the committee, announced that definite steps will be taken in a short time to carry out the re-organization plan.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE RETURNING TO OLD STANDARDS

ST. LOUIS.—The post-war lethargy which has characterized college students is disappearing and they are fast returning to the old standard of work and scholarship, in the opinion of Chancellor Frederic A. Hall, of Washington University.

An improvement is noted at the local institution, he states, in spite of the fact that the number who failed to register for the second term this year, on account of low marks, is the highest in the history of the university.

The charge is illustrated aptly, the chancellor explains, by the lack of restlessness so noticeable immediately following the students them selves to foster greater interest in the purely intellectual phases of college life.

After Rev. John Fox, also colored opened the trial with prayer, the jury heard testimony and in twelve minutes returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

Butterflies From Japan.

TOKIO, Jan. 21.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The Yokohama Chamber of Commerce has received a request from a Boston importer to be put in touch with some exporter of Japanese butterflies so that he may secure not only the complete butterfly, "dried and in perfect condition," for collectors and entomologists, but a few shipments of the gold from butterflies' wings, to be used as gold dust and for gold paint.

Japan before the war did considerable export business with Sweden in butterflies, while one variety of the gaudy insects common in Formosa has a particularly large quantity of gold dust as a part of its wing embellishment.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

"Do you know what is the very nicest thing in the world to eat?" asked the wise old turtle

What the Wise Old Turtle told Mary Jane

A VERY wise old turtle lived in the pond at the edge of the wood, near Mary Jane's house. This turtle's name was Dotty Dots.

One day, when Mary was minding her little brother, Bobbie, Dotty waddled up to her, cocked his head on one side, and said: "Do you know what is the very nicest thing in all the world to eat?"

Mary Jane said No, she didn't. There were so many nice things to eat.

So Dotty said, "Well, you ought to know, for it's named after you! It's Mary Jane Syrup, and it's perfectly delicious on waffles, or pancakes, or spread on bread. It is just what Bobbie and you need."

Mary Jane and Bobbie ran home and told their mother what Dotty Dots said, and their mother said, "Is that so? Well, we'll get some right away and see."

That very night they had Mary Jane Syrup for supper. It was so sweet and pure and delicately-flavored that Mary Jane's mother made up her mind that they never would be without it in the house again.

And they never were.

Take a Lesson From Big Business

Every person who has money to spend, much or little, can profit from this lesson.

Every large business concern has a purchasing agent or professional buyer. It is his job to buy to best advantage. He must be posted on what the firm needs, he must know values and prices and sources of supply. He is constantly gathering information to help him in his work and he reads carefully all the advertisements of manufacturers from whom he might purchase.

The whole secret of professional buying, you see, is information. The man with most information can buy to best advantage.

Apply this to your own case. Whether you are purchasing manager of a family or simply buying for your own personal needs, you must have information. The place to get it is in the newspaper advertisements.

Read the advertisements regularly. They will tell you more about qualities and styles and values than you could ever learn otherwise. They will tell you where and when to find the right thing for which you have been searching.

Reading advertitements is time profitable spent. It will make your money go farther and bring you unthought of comforts and convenience.

TELLS HOW TO GET BETTER SCHOOLS

People of Good Intelligence and Character Kind for Teachers.

(By the Associated Press)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 2.—The first and immediate way of getting better teaching throughout the country is to guide into the profession those of good intelligence and good character that the teachers are instructing. Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey of Los Angeles told the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association here today.

"While we are guiding into other vocations, what is to prevent us from pointing the way into our own?" Mrs. Dorsey asked. "By seeing with a clear vision its regenerating destinies, the road that leads to supreme service; by inviting the best of those whom we teach to enter a vocation second to none in opportunity, we shall have better teaching."

Public school teaching can be greatly improved by a more intelligent grouping of children according to their intellectual capabilities and their general conduct so that instruction may be adapted to their varying degrees of intelligence, and especially to the peculiar needs of the large group of over-aged children, Mrs. Dorsey said.

"There are those in the class doomed to failure, and this paralyzes teacher effort," she continued. "Of late, emphasis has been placed, and rightly, upon the necessity of segregating the educationally unfit, for the sake of the children. What I wish to urge is the necessity of such segregation in the interests of good teaching."

"By referring to age-grade tables, it is found that about one-third of the children in the public schools are one year or more behind grade. When we eliminate the two or three per cent that are actually feeble-minded, there still remain the thirty per cent who could very well get back to grade if they could be given attention according to their needs."

"An experiment in the interests of the thirty per cent has recently come under my observation. Each child has a portfolio containing a series of lesson exercises and questions increasing in difficulty but expressed in plain, understandable language; each lesson in the series forming a distinct unit which may require a longer time for mastery. As soon as one unit is mastered, the child passes on to the next. When a difficulty is met, the teacher's help is asked, it being understood that the help given shall be such that the child will really solve the difficulty himself. This experiment undertaken in the interest of misfits and over-age children has resulted so helpfully that in many instances belated children have covered two and even three grades in a half year and been entered into their regular grade, quite able to move on with the successful pupils of their own age."

"The points of improvement over the ordinary type of lesson are these: superfluous material and verbiage are eliminated."

"A third measure that will contribute to this end is a somewhat better adjustment of teacher training given in departments of education to the every day needs of the child. There is need of a coming together of the departments of education and the public schools since the greater number of those who graduate from the schools of education are to become the teachers of just boys and girls in the elementary or high school. These young instructors need to understand thoroughly two things: first, that university methods, attitudes, and even standards, cannot be carried into the teaching of boys and girls; and second, that a greater emphasis must be placed upon the development of children than upon the development of subject matter."

"Our department of education must train men and women of sym-

Hungry sharks devoured the body of a huge sea monster after it was found off the coast of Florida by Captain Charles Moller of Astoria, Queens, New pathy and of understanding hearts who will care as much for the present life of the child and for his future fate as for the last jot and tittle of a finished recitation in a favorite subject. They must understand that the young have emotions as well as intellect and that unless these emotions are educated to right expression, they will turn and rend society."

"I am not urging the increase of undefined, aimless teaching of ideals of democracy, social service and patriotism. I am asking that these ideals be crystallized into a body of teaching material which shall clearly define the underlying principles of the government and social experiment on which the American people have embarked and in the midst of which we are living. The place which the public school holds in the general scheme of this experiment; how far the public school up to this time has realized its duties and possibilities in this general scheme; and what is the next step in order to achieve a fuller realization of the particular service it is rendered by this American institution are matters of first importance in teacher training."

"An occasional reminder to prospective teachers by those entrusted with their training, that loyalty to country and reverence for the flag should be taught, will not suffice. What we need is a rich body of informative material to illuminate and illustrate the whole subject of the responsibility of the individual to society and to the state, prepared from the point of view of public school education in a land such as ours."

"If France was able to stand fast with her word 'her shall not pass' it was because her children grown to manhood had been educated from their earliest years to a sense of the national danger and of the necessity of preparation and resistance to the death. So must America interpret her national aims and ideals and through unified instruction in the public schools establish in the hearts of her people a national defense."

Championship Meet in July.

LOS ANGELES.—The national track and field championships to be held at Pasadena, near here, July 1, 2, 3, and 4, will be "the greatest athletic spectacle outside of the Olympic games," according to Robert S. Weaver, of Los Angeles, president of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Mr. Weaver, who is busy with details of the event, has announced he has assurances that competing teams will be sent from clubs in all parts of the country including Chicago Athletic association, present title-holder; the New York Athletic club, Boston Athletic association, Illinois Athletic club, the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland, Oregon; the Olympic club of San Francisco; and the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Mr. Weaver said plans were afoot in Pasadena to lend color to the athletic show by the addition of a number of carnival features.

"Dodge Brothers March"

This march was written by Victor Herbert internationally famous conductor and composer, and dedicated by him to Mr. Horace E. Dodge in respectful appreciation of his efforts toward the advancement of American music.

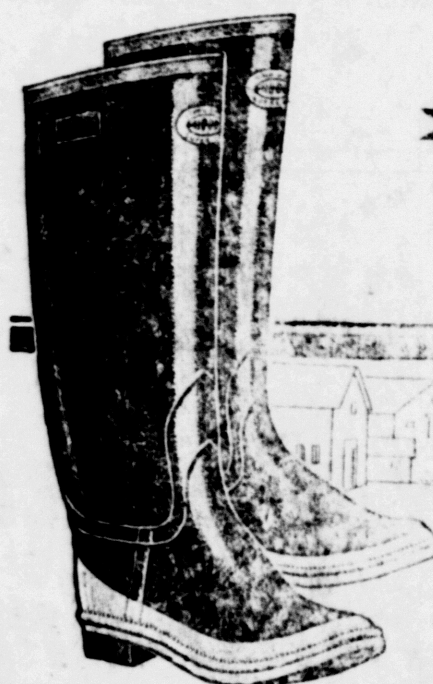

We had the pleasure of hearing this virile, tuneful and wholesome air at New York City, January 11th, 1921, where it was played publicly for the first time. We enjoyed it so much we wished all of our friends could have heard and enjoyed it with us. This being impossible we did the next best thing—we ordered as many copies as were available sent to us in Ada.

This music is published by Jerome H. Remick and Company, and no doubt will become very popular.

We have only a limited number of copies but will gladly give them to our friends free for the asking.

"Uppers cracked and one boot leaks.
Can't go to town until Saturday.
Next time, I'll buy HOODS."

THE uppers on most red boots crack very quickly when exposed to sun and air. While no boot can stand undue exposure, the Hood Pressure Process produces a boot exceptionally free from this objectionable feature. When you buy a red boot with a yellow label and the word "HOOD" on it, you are getting the latest development—an upper that will stand rough treatment combined with the newest tire-tread soles, which means long wear and good looks. "HOOD" is your guarantee.

Wealth Brings Trouble to Aged Couple in Oil Fields

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 26.—Oil poured from a poor man's land at Breckenridge, Tex., and brought a flood of wealth and woe to the cottage of George Ward here.

Ward was a stationary engineer. He worked hard all of his life. When he got home nights he liked to toast his toes before the fire and read the daily paper. When he put on his Sunday hat and a white shirt he was "dressed up."

His wife was a good housekeeper and watched the pennies.

Their monthly income now is more than $10,000. The routine of their daily life in the cottage changed but little until—

Their son Sam, a railroad brakeman, came home to live with them.

Sam's home was broken up. His wife sued Ward and his wife for $100,000, charging alienation of her husband's affections.

Subpoena servers visited the Ward home.

Real estate agents called with "best buys."

Then piano salesmen, auto salesmen; insurance agents, oil stock salesmen.

People who had known them for years but were never friendly became solicitous about their welfare.

Confidence men called before breakfast. Others came after Ward's nine o'clock bedtime.

"I never was messed up in court until I got all this money," said

Ward, as he took a hitch in a new pair of galluses.

"And I don't feel like any 'oilionaire,' as they call me."

"I wish the darn gusher had never gushed."

TEXAS CELEBRATES TODAY

"Thermopolae had its messenger of defeat; The Alamo had none."

Eighty-five years ago today the hardy pioneers who made up the citizenry of the Mexican territory of Texas arose in their mighty wrath, declared their independence of Mexico, established a provisional government and organized an army to throw off the yoke of the oppressors.

March the Second is the "Fourth of July" of Texas. To every resident of the big state to our south, to every former citizen of the Lone Star domain it is a day that is held in the deepest reverence, hallowed in the memory of all. There are thousands of good Oklahomans, many residents of Ada who are natives of the Longhorn state. Their hearts will swell with conscious pride of their nativity today just as the hearts of Texans the world over, for the love of state is more marked in the breasts of those who come from south of the Red River than in the natives of any other section.

Led by Stephen Austin, Sam Houston, Ben Milam, William Fannin, William Travis, James Bowie and others, in 1835 the Texas pioneers began to rebel against the inhuman oppression of the Mexican government. Their cause appealed to hundreds of men in the United States and they were reinforced by these American who were anxious to assist them in their fight for liberty. The immortal Davy Crockett was one of those who came to help the Texans and who gave his life in the struggle.

In February and March, 1836, the most heroic battles in history took place. The story of the Alamo has been told the world over. Crockett, Travis, Bowie and Bonham and 176 men withstood the assaults of 5,000 Mexicans under Santa Anna for two weeks. No defender of the Alamo surrendered. Every one was killed by Santa Anna's forces. Followed in quick succession the massacre at Goliad, where Colonel Fannin and some hundreds of Texans were killed after surrendering in good faith to the superior forces of their enemies; and a number of massacres of lesser importance.

The Texans could stand no more. On March 2, 1836, they declared their independence. General Sam Houston was made commander-in-chief of the little army. In answer to the declaration, Santa Anna, president of Mexico and self-styled "Napoleon of the West" hurried three armies north of the Rio Grande, personally leading the largest. Followed a number of engagements and then, April 21, 1836, the hordes of Santa Anna met the heroes of Sam Houston. The Texans, including the grand-father of the writer of this article went into the Battle of San Jacinto with the cry, "Remember the Alamo! Remember Goliad!" Greatly outnumbered as they were, they were not to be denied. The Mexican army was annihilated; Santa Anna was captured. Texas independence was won! The yoke of the "Greaser" was cast off forever.

Eighty-five years ago those veteran pioneers repudiated the dictatorship of Santa Anna. Today, on the anniversary of that historic date, every Texan and every former Longhorn will honor the memory of their heroic ancestors. Every American lover of liberty, regardless of state affiliation, will glory in the hardihood and courage which those old frontiersmen displayed on March 2, 1836.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

"Be it ever so humble, there is no place like home."

When we live in rented houses we cannot help but be slaves to the landlord. The roof leaks, the steps are dilapidated, the paper slips from the walls, the door knob drops from its socket, and many other things happen that stir the ire in the best of us.

But how pleasant it is for a family to "live under its own vine and fig tree!" A building in which each member of the family can take personal pride and speak of it as "our home."

It is not necessary to have a mansion in order to have a home, neither is it necessary to be wealthy before one can own a home. A little money down and a small payment each month will start any ambitious family on the road to wealth and happiness.

Many home owners in Ada started a few years ago under such conditions and circumstances and are happy and contented today.

If you own your own home you can take pride in fixing up the steps, varnishing the floors, painting a post or setting out a tree, because it is your home and every dollar spent on it is money invested to your credit, and the labor expended is time well spent, for it is for the comfort, happiness and enjoyment of you and your family.

Under such an environment love is born; here a disposition to be kind and true is cultivated; here children are inspired to higher and nobler things in life, and go out into the world and become leaders in everything that has for its object the betterment of conditions in the town and community in which they live. Then is it not worth the effort? Surely it is.

So, while our friends and neighbors are building, let us, too, resolve to build and remember this, that "be it ever so humble, there is no place like home."

ROAD BOOSTERS DISCUSS PLANS

Citizens Pledge Their Support at County Wide Meet Monday.

That the good roads movement, launched here two weeks ago by a number of men who have become heart sore and weary from continually bumping the bumps on Pontotoc county highways, has spread to the neighboring towns and met with the whole hearted approval of the residents thereof was clearly evident yesterday afternoon when representatives from Roff, Allen, Cretford and Fitzhugh met at a local hotel and joined the Ada men in the planning a membership campaign which it is believed will eventually induce every resident of the district who is interested in better roads to become a member of the organization. There were thirty odd men from the neighboring towns present, in addition to several of the Ada boosters.

Objects of Club.

The objects of the Good Roads Motor Club was explained to the visitors and they were told of the work which has already been accomplished. They were urged to request to align themselves with the movement and to get into the fight for good roads—a fight, if successful, that will result in untold benefit for every section of Pontotoc and adjoining counties.

After the plan of organization and the proposed work had been explained to the visitors they were asked to speak right out in meeting and make any suggestions they cared to.

Brief addresses were made by Dr. Overton, Dr. Hill and J. R. Womack of Roff; J. H. Lee and others of Allen; Mr. Kirk and P. J. Hart of Fitzhugh, and O. N. Reed and P. L. Hart of Stratford. All of those present took part in the round table discussion which followed.

Should All Join Hands.

The keynote was sounded when Dr. Overton said: "We are assembled here to organize and begin the fight for better roads in Pontotoc county. Selfishness is the first thing we must get rid of, if our fight is to be carried to a successful culmination. We must combine our interests and all communities and sections of the district work together that common good may result. As long as we are united and strive as a unified body we will secure telling results. When Allen or Francis or Roff or Ada or any of the communities become jealous of the others and undertake to carry on the work alone then failure will be the result. Let every section of the county join hands in the fight, forget their personal interests and work for the common good of all time."

Other Towns Willing.

Mr. Reed of Stratford said that the residents of his city stood with Pontotoc county in the fight for decent highways. Altho in Garvin county, he said that Stratford would join in the fight and hold up their share of the work. He assured those present that the club would secure a hundred percent membership in his city.

The men from Fitzhugh, those from Allen and the representatives from Roff declared that their respective towns were strongly in favor of the Good Roads club. They stated that they were all for the work and that they would enroll large memberships in each community.

P. L. Hart of Stratford brought the assembled men to their feet with cheers when he said: "I do not know whether I am eligible to membership in this club or not. I own no automobile. But I do own a wagon and team. Roads that are good for an auto are good for my wagon. I want to see some decent roads in this section of the state and I want to join you men in your fight." He was assured that he would be welcomed as a member of the club, just as will any other resident who wants to work for improved highways.

Present Officers Retained

By unanimous vote the assembly agreed to retain in their positions the temporary officers which were elected at the first meeting in Ada two weeks ago. These officers will act for the club in the entire district until the membership campaign has been completed, when the permanent organization will be effected.

Before adjourning it was decided to ask the residents of Byers to get into the club and work with the Pontotoc men for good roads leading to their town.

Altho Francis, Stonewall and other Pontotoc communities not represented at the meeting yesterday assurances have been received from the residents that they approve of the move and will get into the club.

Membership Campaign

The membership campaign will be launched in Ada tomorrow. Simultaneously committees will be at work in the other towns of the county securing members for the club. On Monday of next week club members from Ada, Roff and other towns in this county will go to Stratford and help men of that community secure a hundred percent membership. The Tuesday following delegations will go from Ada to all Pontotoc towns and assist the local men in perfecting their membership rolls. Then men from those towns will in turn come to Ada and help complete the drive here. It is believed that no one who is for progress and good roads will escape this dragnet.

Are you tired of the mud and the ruts of our roads and streets? Have you become weary of bumping the bumps along our highways? Then join the Good Roads Motor Club and work for all that's in you that we may have some decent thoroughfares. Join the club, greet the campaign committees with a smile!

COUNSEL SAYS LEDBETTER DIED DUE TO PERJURY

MUSKOGEE, Feb. 28.—Counsel for John G. Ledbetter of this city, who was electrocuted in the state penitentiary at McAlester last Friday, for the murder of Robert Moreland, said today that if he obtains a little more evidence, he will cause a perjury charge to be filed against Mrs. Pearl Darrow, whose testimony convicted Ledbetter. Counsel announced that the prosecuting attorney's office was assisting in the investigating that is now being made of the woman's testimony.

Use Same Bats.

CLEVELAND—Members of the Cleveland Indians apparently are satisfied to go through the 1921 season with the bats with which they won the American League and World's championship last year. Unlike in previous seasons, E. S. Barnard, business manager of the club, has received few requests for new bats.

Applications Received.

CHICAGO—Emanuel Ormsby, a veteran of the world war and former pitching star in the American Association, is the latest applicant for the position of the Three-league 1921 staff of umpires. Ormsby, who formerly pitched for St. Paul, was wounded at Chateau Thierry while fighting with the marines. President Kearney is giving his application consideration. Ormsby is a Chicagoan.

OLD WAR VETERAN PIONEER OF WEST

Nears 67th Birthday; Has Made Good Life Record.

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 28.—Descending from a line of ancestry which is distinctly recorded back to an officer of Cromwell's army, Colonel Elias Briggs Baldwin, Kansas pioneer, soldier and teacher is today approaching his eighty-seventh birthday.

Colonel Baldwin was born June 17, 1834, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., being the eldest of fifteen children. He was educated in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, Academy, and when a young man was principal of a school in Auburn, N. Y., where he formed a lasting friendship with William H. Seward, who later became secretary of state in the cabinet of Abraham Lincoln.

When the war between the states blazed forth, young Baldwin was active in the organization of the 36th Illinois Volunteer Infantry, under President Lincoln's first call for troops, and was made a captain in that regiment. During the rivalry as to which regiment should be accepted first and in succession under the president's call, Captain Baldwin wrote to Secretary Seward, urging the acceptance of the 36th Illinois, and Seward replied that it would be accepted as soon as it might be ready.

As captain of Company C, in this regiment, Baldwin succeeded Captain (afterwards General) Phil H. Sheridan as quartermaster at Springfield, Mo., at which time all supplies passed through his hands to General Franz Sigel in the battle of Pea Ridge, Missouri.

Baldwin was later advanced to a lieutenant-colonelcy of the 8th Missouri cavalry and was chief of staff under General Frank Herron. At Texas Lady Suffered With Pulling and Aching Pains in Her Back, Which Cardui Relieved.

Houston, Texas.—Mrs. C. D. Cook, of 1912 Whitty Street, this city, recently said: "About four months after my marriage, I . . . began suffering much pain, and knew that my condition was unusual, but couldn't just decide what was wrong. I had to go to bed . . . "All across my back and hips were pains, pulling and aching until I could hardly sit up. I stayed in bed a few days. My husband had heard of Cardui . . . so I told him he might get it. "After I had taken Cardui a few days, I was up. I took five bottles and haven't been in bed since for this trouble, for if I have the least symptoms of this trouble I get Cardui and take it in time.

"I have a number of friends who have used Cardui, and they recommend it very highly."

The experience of this Texas lady is similar to that related by thousands of other women.

Cardui is purely vegetable, and mild and gentle in its action. Cardui may be the very medicine you need if suffering with womanly troubles.

one time he was provost marshal of the Third Division of the Army of the Frontier.

In 1868 Colonel Baldwin located at Ottawa, Kan., but the following year removed to Labette county, where he continued to reside almost continuously until his death. He was elected commander of his local post of the G. A. R., many times, was a member of the Loyal Legion and held numerous offices of public trust. He was a delegate to the national republican convention from Iowa which first nominated General Grant for the presidency.

Colonel Baldwin was a lineal descendant of the family of Lieut. Col. George Baldwin, Hesselrig's regiment, in the English Parliamentary army under Protector Oliver Cromwell and afterwards colonial settler at Oyster Bay, N. Y., during the days of Governor Peter Stuyvesant.

Colonel Baldwin was twice married. His first wife was Julia Crampton, daughter of distinguished New England ancestry. By this union, three sons were born: Evelyn B. Baldwin, Arctic Explorer, now in the government service at Washington; Milton N., of Princeton, Ill., and Burton L., of Miami, Okla. His second wife was Lydia Gibbs of Bridgeton, Maine. By this marriage, two children were born, of whom one survives—Mrs. Julia A. Ball of Labette county.

Evelyn B. Baldwin, who is 59 years old, has lived as active a life as that of his father, his experience ranging all the way from mushing through the icy wastes of the north, to aiding in bringing sustenance to the starving babies of Belgium during the war with Germany.

He toured Europe on foot and astride a bicycle; taught school; has acted as observer for the weather bureau; inspector-at-large for the U. S. Signal Corps; accompanied Peary on his Greenland expedition; was second in command of Walter Wellman's expedition to Franz Josef land; built posts and depots in the Arctic zone, and later headed his own expedition into the polar regions.

The Gladness of Nature.
Is this a time to be cloudy and sad.
When our Mother Nature laughs around;
When even the deep blue heavens
look glad.
And gladness breathes from the blossoming ground?

There are notes of joy from the hang-bird and wren
And the gossip of swallows through all the sky;
The ground squirrel chirps
by his den.
And the wilding bee hums merrily
by.

The clouds are at play in the azure space.
And their shadows at play on the bright green vale.
And here they stretch to the frolic
And there they roll on the easy gale.

And look at the broad-faced sun,
how he smiles
On the dewy earth that smiles in his ray.
On the leaping waters and gay
young isles;
Ay, look, and he'll smile thy gloom away. — Bryant.

Twelfth Street To Be Paved East of Broadway

The paving committee reported last evening to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors that arrangements are being made by the committee and the property owners on Twelfth street east of Broadway to gravel that street from the end of the concrete pavement to the east side of town.

Practically all of the property owners on both sides of the street have agreed to take care of their part of the expense, and the committee has so far met with no opposition. It is the opinion of the members of the committee that citizens on other streets will follow the lead of the progressive property owners on East Twelfth and keep the good work going.

It has not been decided yet whether gravel of chert will be used on the streets, but that question will be settled within a day of two by the property owners. Both materials are available in great abundance and either will make an excellent road which would last for several years.

To Help United Charities
The fact that the treasury of the United Charities organization is void of funds was brought to the attention of the board, and the members voted unanimously to assist in a campaign to raise money for the support of that important organization. Director Manville was chosen to head a committee to handle the campaign.

Will Pay Legislators.
A member of the board called attention to the fact that the salary of a senator and representative of this county and district in the legislature will likely be reduced next Friday from $7.50 a day to $1.50 a day. It is not certain that this change will result but the question is up for the consideration of the legislature at this time, and will depend on the construction which the lawmakers place on the law governing.

MRS. HARRIMAN WOULD DIVORCE HER THIRD MATE

Mrs. Herbert M. Harriman on the beach at Newport.

Mrs. Herbert M. Harriman has filed suit in New York for divorce from her husband, cousin of the late E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate. He is her third husband.
She divorced her second husband,
Major Charles Spencer Hall, in 1906. Her first husband, C. Robert Stevens, died in 1895, leaving her a large fortune. She married Harriman in 1908.

difference in pay which the circumstances warrant. It was the opinion of the members that both Senator Harrison and Representative Pratt are needed in the legislature and should not be required to make the financial sacrifice necessary to be made if they do remain.

Minerva Has Many Mishaps in Play at Normal Last Night

The "Mishaps of Minerva," a comedy drama given by the Home Economics club of the Normal last evening was a great success and those in charge are greatly elated over the outcome of the affair.
Everyone who took part in the play were at their best and every part was well received by an appreciative audience.

At the opening of the entertainment a solo was sung by Miss Natalie Manville, with a demonstration of the song with a spinning wheel.
Following this number another solo was given by Arthur Harrison. These numbers were well received and highly appreciated by all. The first act of the play was a scene in the living room of the Sterling home and after several interesting, amusing and perplexing occurrences the act closed, with many incidents as yet undecided.

Miss Manville again entertained the audience between the first and second acts and after singing two beautiful solos won the hearty applause of those present. The second act was a scene in the same home
the following morning at which time the plot grew thicker and became more interesting. It was during this time that Mike Shannon, the policeman, proved himself so good a cop.
Everything turned out alright in the end, however, and Dr. Barnes, the hero, won Miss Minerva as his bride. The curtain then fell with those connected with Minerva dancing around Mike praising him for his good work in straightening things out.

John Zimmerman as Dr. Barnes, and Elizabeth Hill as Minerva were the leading characters of the play, closely followed by Raymond Caskey as Harry Stevenson, Neva Wright as Belle Brantley, and Myrtle Duncan as Clara Sterling. A matinee was held in the afternoon with an excellent attendance and the club entertained those who took part in the play with a luncheon between the afternoon and evening performances.

The home economics club wishes to thank all who in any way assisted in making the play a success.

Local Carpenter Is Badly Injured When Car Is Overturned

John Payne, a carpenter of this city, was seriously injured yesterday when his car overturned with him, badly bruising his head and back.
The accident occurred near Byrd's Mill.

Mr. Payne was going to his work near that place and was turning a sharp corner at a lively speed when one of the tires was punctured, causing the car to topple over. He was found some time later by a farmer and his son who happened to be passing that way. When found he was unconscious and was rushed to a physician. His condition is much better this morning and promises a rapid recovery.

Presbyterians To Hold "Every Member Cavass" on Sunday

The local Presbyterian church has taken on new life recently and is taking a great interest in the "New Era Program". One feature of that program is the "every member cavass" which will be made next Sunday afternoon.

The general assembly has designated Sunday afternoon, March 6th as the day for the cavass and therefore nearly ten thousand congregations in the U. S. making their cavass.

The local board of members of the Presbyterian church in this city will meet tonight at the church at 7:30 o'clock to complete plans for the cavass here.

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO REVERSE BOYCOTT DECISION

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The supreme court is to be asked to reconsider its decision holding secondary boycotts illegal. William Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, announced today. Mr. Johnston said the petition was being prepared and would be presented as soon as completed.

The court's decision reversed lower court decrees refusing the Duplex Printing Press company injunctions restraining members of the machinists' association from exercising coercive pressure upon prospective purchasers of the company's press.

Mr. Johnston said the court would be asked to reconsider on the ground that there "was nothing to enjoin" at the time the supreme court assumed jurisdiction in the case. The strike at the company's plant, which led to the secondary boycott, had ended more than three years before the court handed down its decision, he asserted.

FRUIT NOT HURT BY BAD WEATHER

Snow Beneficial To Wheat; Potatoes Are Being Planted.

Fruit buds were probably not seriously injured by the hard freeze accompanying the severe snow storm that swept Oklahoma February 18 and 19, except possibly in the southeast part where peaches and plums were beginning to bloom.
says the weekly weather and crop report issued at the weather bureau recently. The report adds that the snow will be beneficial to oats that have been sown and to winter grains, especially to wheat in the northwest portion, where moisture was needed.

The snow storm followed by cold weather during the night of the 19-20, stopped all farm operations, says the summary. The depth of snow ranged from about 6 inches in the northwestern portion to about 18 inches in the central section.
Temperatures ranged between 10 and 20 degrees above zero the morning of the 20th, but the weather moderated and the snow melted rapidly on the 20th and 21st, it is added.

Winter wheat is reported in good condition, with the prospect "very promising except for the presence of green bugs," which are reported from various localities in the central and western portions of the state. Planting of potatoes is reported under way in the south-central, and eastern portions.

GO TO THEATRE

McSwain

Maurice Tourneur's great screen production, "The Great Redeemer," which is to be shown at the Mc-Swain theater today tells a story that is so absorbing and thrilling that persons who behold it will inevitably conclude that it is fiction—that it never could have happened in real life.

Such is, in fact, not the case.
While "The Great Redeemer" was written by H. H. Van Loan and is in the main work of the imagination its central theme is taken direct from life. It embodies an incident that happened in a prison at San Bernardino, Cal., two years ago.
A Mexican was serving fifteen years there for manslaughter. On the wall of his cell he painted a picture of the Crucifixion. It was a painting whose beauty attracted attention all over the state.

As a direct result of the influence of this painting the Mexican was granted a pardon by the Governor of the state and is now a professional artist, making a living in Los Angeles.

added.

press companies top the list, $425,- 000 having been returned to Oklahoma citizens. Railroads returned $424,721.23; telephone companies,

How It Started

THE "PLUS" SIGN.

THE "plus" or sign of addition, is derived from the Latin word "et," meaning "and." Originally the word "et" was written as a capital E with a flourish across the lower extremity. This in time, as haste dictated to convenience, degenerated into a simple cross.

SCHOOL IS SUCCESSFUL IN MANY ENTERPRIZES

PADUCAH, Ky., Mar. 1.—McCracken county has, in the Reidland school, located several miles from this city, what educators say is one of the most unique public school enterprises in the country. The school has seven teachers, including kindergarten and home economics instructors; 175 pupils; gives a free lunch to every pupil attending; takes any child free of charge regardless of whether his home is in the district and now is preparing plans for the erection of a $25,000 building. The school is maintained without any increase in the tax levy above the figure at which it stood seven years ago according to its sponsors.

The latest enterprise of the school is the incorporation of the "Reidland School Free Lunch association" owned and operated by the pupils under the direction of three of the teachers, who for purposes of organization are listed as officials. The association has a capital stock of $1,000.

Last summer the trustees purchased ten acres of land as a site for the new school building. On this land garden tracts have been set aside and in these the boys will raise garden stuff, potatoes and other vegetables needed for the lunches. A poultry flock will be maintained and $500 of the capital is to be invested in a registered and tested dairy cow for furnishing milk. Whatever funds are available after the association gets started as a capitalized affair will be invested in breeding stock, according to W. Mike Oliver, an attorney, who is credited with being the guiding spirit in the work done in the district during the last seven years.

The vegetables raised in the school gardens are to be canned by members of the Girls' Canning Club, an adjunct of the Home Economics course, and which last year canned several hundred quarts of vegetables. The lunches will be cooked by the class in cooking as part of their course. At present lunches are prepared from food-stuffs furnished by residents of the district.

Credit for the project and its success is given largely to W. Mike Oliver, well known in Western Kentucky as an authority on drainage law.

WAR SPIRIT OF SERVICE STILL RETAINED BY MEN

CHICAGO, Mar. 1.—That the spirit of service which asserted itself so powerfully during the world war has not been entirely lost is indicated by the manner in which business and professional men's weekly luncheon clubs have flourished during the past two years.

Reports at the annual council of the Kiwanis Club International held in this city show the organization to have been extended into over 400 cities in the United States and Canada and there are about 40,000 members all of whom attend meetings of the weekly luncheon clubs.

Local clubs reported the public activities in which they have engaged in the past year and about 70 different sorts of public service were recounted.

The reports showed that activities included obtaining industrial enterprises for cities, supplying milk for the infants of indigent parents, raising funds for the building of hospitals, hotels, orphanages and bridges, painting fire hydrants and procuring extensions of city limits. The reports also showed Kiwanis clubs to have fought radicalism; sponsored Americanization; fought forest fires; provided Boy Scout camps; conducted clean-up, safety first, better health, father and son, public park, charity, playground, musical education, anti-vice and better housing campaigns.

The first Kiwanis club was established in Detroit, Michigan in January of 1915. In May 1917, the present International Organization was formed.

There are in existence today 420 Kiwanis clubs with over 42,000 members located in the principal cities of the United States and Canada.

President-elect Harding is a charter member of the Kiwanis club of Marion, Ohio. The Prince of Wales is a member of the Montreal, Canada club. President Obregon of Mexico is a member of the El Paso, Texas organization.

HOUSTON MUST PRODUCE PAPERS

Mandatory Resolution By Reed of Missouri Directs Secretary.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Secretary Houston is "directed" in a resolution adopted today by the judiciary committee to produce complete treasury files of correspondence relating to foreign loans. Members of the committee said the resolution was practically a "quantity subpoena" in form.
The resolution was introduced by Senator Reed, democrat of Missouri, author of the bill to prohibit further loans to foreign governments and was adopted in executive session.
Committeemen said it made it "mandatory" for the secretary to appear before the committee tomorrow with the full correspondence.
Secretary Houston informed the committee yesterday that he had referred the correspondence to Secretary Colby of the state department for determination as to what part of it could be submitted to the committee without affecting public interest.
Senator Reed reiterated his statement today that Secretary Houston "ought to be cited for contempt," an declaration that unless the secretary produced the papers as directed by the resolution he would ask the senate to take action.

WOMEN TEACHERS WELCOME STYLES NOW BEING USED

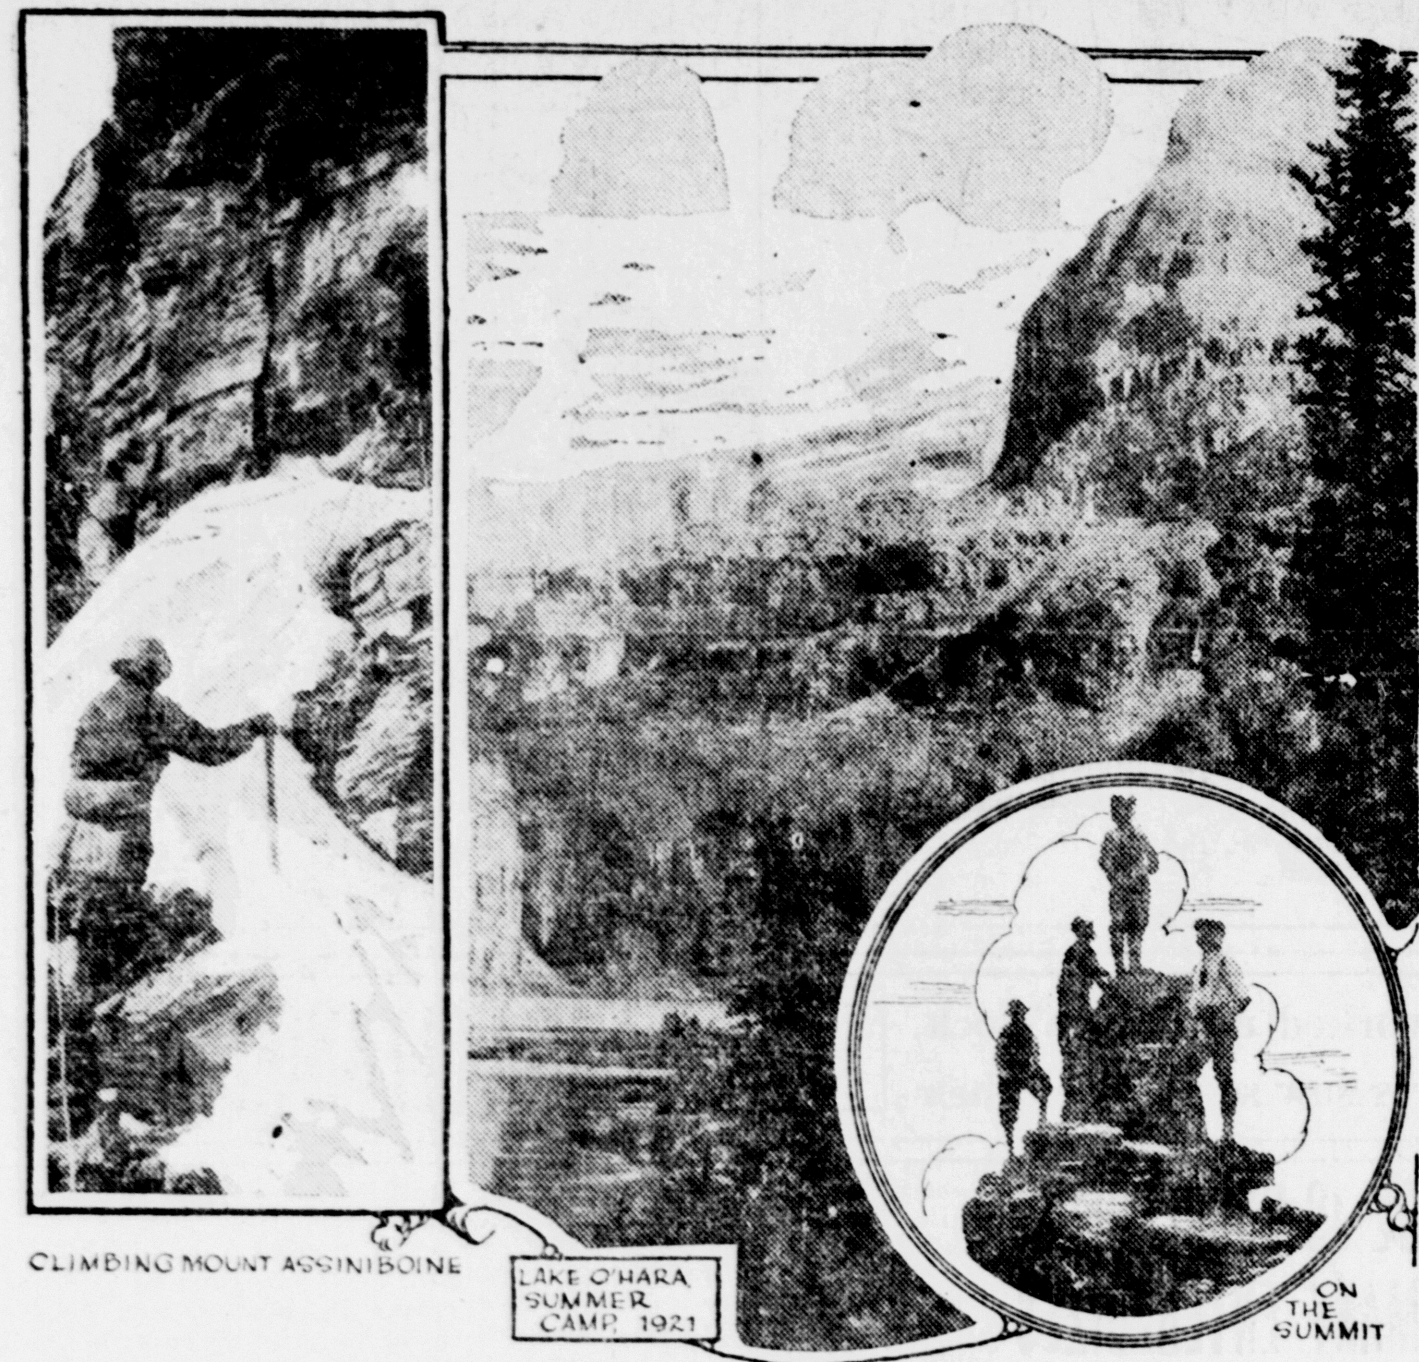

(By the Associated Press)
WELLESLEY, Mass., Mar. 1.—Kinesthetically speaking, the new styles for women mean the death of the "debutante slouch." This is the view, at least, of the department of hygiene at Wellesley College, which follows the styles with a watchful eye for their effect on the bearing and general health of Wellesley's 1,500 students.
No one is more delighted at the passing of the styles responsible for the "debutante slouch" than Miss Mary S. Haagenen, instructor in remedial gymnastics. Straightening out slouches and other bad habits of posture is her daily work, and the task has at times been difficult. It will be easier, thinks Miss Haagenen, with the new styles.
"The old styles, with their tight fitting and clinging lines," she says, "moulded most girls into a shape much like the figure 'S'. Everything about this posture, from a hygienic point of view, was bad. Today, with looser garments, introduced on the wave of popularity for the sport clothes, it will be much easier thing for a girl to stand up straight; letting the shoulders carry the bulk of lighter weights, and the hips carry their share of heavier weights."
Miss Haagenen looks for more common sense in all of the styles for the future, due to the wider participation of women in outdoor exercises.

DEFECTIVE TEETH AND ENLARGED TONSILS GREATEST MENACE TO HEALTH

(By Dr. A. R. Lewis, State Health Commissioner.)
Out of 1,321 children examined in the public schools of Kay county 787 were found to have one or more physical defects. This means that more than half of these boys and girls are starting out in life, handicapped. A similar survey, made in Oklahoma county shows figures equally startling. Four hundred and forty out of 1,046 were pronounced defective. Both reports stated that 15 per cent of the children were underweight.
"Of the 1,321 children examined, 63 were found to have defective vision, 193 defective teeth, 383 enlarged or diseased tonsils, 6 showed some aural defects, either a discharging ear or impaired hearing, and 53 were found to be pronounced mouth breathers," states the report from Kay county.
Bad teeth lead all ailments of children examined in Oklahoma county. Of the 440 pupils classified as defective, 373 had decayed teeth. Only 10 had enlarged tonsils but 28 had impaired vision.
Probably the most significant thing about these reports of Oklahoma school children is that the underweight, undernourished children are found in the lower grades. The figures, which denote the prevalence of decayed teeth, are also unusually high for children so young.
More care and attention should be given to health of children and especially when they are of school age, because it is then the most good can be accomplished. Mouth breathing indicates marked nasal obstruction. If not removed in early youth, diseases of the nose and throat are sure to develop in later life.
The state should spend more money, time and energy on the well-being of its children. It costs 6 3-4 cents per capita to maintain the state department of health for a year; 11 cents (or nearly twice as much) to spend per capita to take care of the animals on the farm. Which is of more value—the care of stock or human lives?

Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon of Holdenville were business visitors here yesterday afternoon.
Mr. J. F. M. Harris, one of Ada's oldest and most respected citizens, is quite seriously sick at his home, 209 East Twelfth street.

LAKE O'HARA, SUMMER CAMP OF THE ALPINE CLUB OF CANADA

CLIMBING MOUNT ASSINIBOINE

LAKE O'HARA SUMMER CAMP 1921

ON THE SUMMIT

Lake O'Hara, which is to be the summer camp of the Alpine Club of Canada this year, so fascinated John Singer Sargent, Royal Academician and world famous painter, that he spent an entire week in transforming to canvas its beautiful scenes. Walter D. Wilcox, an authority on the Canadian Rockies, declares that in all the mountain wilderness the most complete picture of natural beauty is realized in Lake O'Hara, green as its Irish name. One of the numerous mountain trails from Lake Louise, connects with the route to Abbot Pass, a deep canyon between Mt. Victoria, 11,235 feet high, and Mt. Assiniboine, 11,220 feet, to the rear of which peaks lies Lake O'Hara. It is reached more easily from Hector on the Canadian Pacific by means of an excellent pony trail. Both Victoria and Lefroy are still climbs, particularly for those who are ambitious to qualify for membership in the Alpine Club of Canada by ascending a mountain of 10,000 feet in altitude.
This club was founded in 1906, has a beautiful clubhouse on the shoulder of Sulphur Mountain at Banff, is visited by the world's leading Alpinists and has a large and constantly increasing membership. Each year it establishes a camp at some beautiful spot in the Canadian Rockies from which its members ascend a "heaven kissing hill" or two, or in which they enjoy life in the great outdoors. Last year the club tackled Mt. Assiniboine, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Pacific Rockies, and 35 of its members succeeded in ascending to the very summit of this great peak which towers nearly 12,000 feet above the sea. Among the 35 were four women who showed no signs of being backward about going forward and upward even in competition with Alpinists of the sterner sex.

LUTHER HARRISON "KIDS" LOBBYISTS

In the senate, lobbyists filled the aisles. Lobbyists lined the wall. The departmental appropriation bill was being considered.
"Mr. President," Luther Harrison speaking.
"Senator Harrison,"
"I move you, Mr. President, that on the next legislative day, the senate hold its session in the majority or minority room so the lobbyists can have the chamber."
"Do I hear a second?" from the president. "Your motion loses for want of a second."

J. E. Lee and son of Allen were in the city yesterday, returning to their home there this morning after spending a short time here looking after business affairs with local business friends.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—The senate struck from the legislative bill today an unnecessary, its amendment authorizing purchase by the treasury department of one hundred million dollars of farm loan bonds. Wife Helps Elect Hubby

"After having been in bed half the time for a year with severe pains in my right side over the appendix, stomach trouble and bloating, which the doctors seemed unable to reach with medicine, and advised operation as the only remedy, my nurse advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and its results have truly been wonderful as I am now entirely well and strong, and at the last election worked hard to elect my husband." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Gwin & Mays and druggists everywhere. 15

TO FIGHT VIOLATORS OF GAME LAWS IN MISSISSIPPI

DAVENPORT, Ia., Mar. 2.—Charles P. S. Smith, United States game warden here is mapping out a campaign throughout the Mississippi valley against violators of the federal game laws. Federal game wardens and deputies and state deputy game wardens will take part in the efforts to insure "safe conduct" for the migratory birds along the Mississippi from the south to the north, in the spring months.

In announcing plans for the campaign Mr. Smith said it was intended that persistent game law violators would be caused to believe there was a game warden in every channel between St. Louis and Minneapolis. A speed launch will be used part of the time.

Warden Smith has just returned from two months work in the south where he cooperated with other federal officers in protecting game and birds. States in which the campaign was waged include North and South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Florida. Information he obtained causes him to believe an increase in the number of migratory birds has resulted from enforcement of the laws, and elimination of the "market hunter" through federal and state legislation.

WOMEN WHO OVERWORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women continually overdo and suffer in silence, grifting along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they need help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine with specific value which overcomes many of the worst forms of female complaints, as the letters constantly being published in this paper will prove.

Keep the Kidneys Well

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Ada People Know How to Save It.

Many Ada people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is an Ada citizen's recommendation.

E. B. Gregory, farmer, 509 W. Eleventh St., says: "Some years ago, I used Doan's Kidney Pills when I was having trouble with my back and kidneys. Doan's removed the stiffness and pains from the small of my back and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Gregory had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 29
